

TYPHOID

FACING THE FEVER

Typhoid has hit the news recently with an outbreak of 52 cases occurring in Kuala Lumpur and Selangor, since August 2015. So should you panic? No. Positive Parenting demystifies typhoid for you and your family.

WHAT IS IT?

Typhoid fever, commonly known as typhoid is a bacterial infection caused by the bacteria, Salmonella typhi.

Typhoid is highly contagious and can be transmitted via bacteria passed from stool or urine of an infected person.

Typhoid is easily treatable and there are vaccines to prevent it.
